

Tic Tac Toe

Complete a Reading Response Journal Entry Debate with yourself! Present 2 opposing viewpoints from the selection.	Show 3 different words you decoded by turning them into a math equation (chunk + chunk = whole word). dis + may = dismay dis + may + ed = dismayed	Draw something from the classroom that ties in with the book. Explain how it ties to the selection. Choose and draw an object to represent something (metaphor) from the selection.
Make up a rap song about the book. Pretend you are the main character (get sucked into the book so that you become the main character to write your rap) or use the main idea in the selection.	FREE CHOICE! Writing - write a letter to the author about the book (tell the author why you think he/she chose certain words or topics and ask what you'd like to know about the author) or write a letter to a character in the selection (tell the character how you feel about what happened in the book or offer advice to the character if you have ever been in a similar situation). Visualization - write a paragraph about how you pictured a section of the text. Sequence - draw a picture in comic book format that tells the main events of the selection in order. Poems - write a poem about the selection. Jokes/Riddles - write a joke and a riddle about the selection.	Create a postcard about the selection to send home. Draw a picture for one side, then write your note home about it and address the postcard on the other side. Your note should tell the people at home the significance of what you drew.
Create 3 good questions about the selection for others to answer. Check with the teacher to see if you may work in partners.	Tell which 2 comprehension strategies you used the most while reading the selection and how they helped you. Tell which strategy you need to work on some more.	Write and act out part of the selection in Readers' Theater format. Check with the teacher to see if you may work with a partner.

Tic Tac Toe

TIC TAC TOE, 3 IN A ROW!